

Bridget Moser: Is This Thing On?

The Toronto-based artist's video and performance work integrates modern dance, experimental theatre, monologue, prop comedy and pop music. In his comments on the new video Memory Foam, curator Stefan Hancherow observes the artist's skillful linking of artworld and consumer commodity fetishism. Art historian Sarah Hollenberg examines the semiotic workings of the three older works: So What?!, Asking for a Friend, and Tender Offer Part. At the same time, she situates Moser's oeuvre historically in a long line of meaning-makers, outclassed but clever, sparring playfully with the behemoth of mass culture. This is the first monograph dedicated to the artist's work.
