

MANAGEMENT OF ARTHRITIS: CLINICAL EVALUATION OF HERBAL MEDICINE FOR ARTHRITIS

Arthritis is a very common disease affecting the joints, skin and various internal organs. Arthritis is not an 'old persons disease', nearly 3 out of every 5 people with arthritis are younger than 65. It affects about 42 million people, women make up more than two-thirds of all arthritis cases but anyone is vulnerable to the disease, even children. There are many proven Eastern/Unani medicines for rheumatoid arthritis and osteoarthritis. It is important that alternative or complementary strategy for the treatment with Unani medicine is another option to be followed. Many Unani medicine therapies for arthritis are heavily advertised and make attractive claims. This book will provide its reader a better understanding about all aspects of arthritis especially its management under the principals of Eastern/Unani medicines.
